

EV 2012 PRACTICALITIES

PRACTICALITIES

PRE-BEIJING 2012 (BEFORE OCTOBER)

The preparation of your poster and presentation by means of virtual distance coaching before October 2012: more details regarding the recommended size of the poster, the presentation formats and background reading will be communicated weekly by email.

EMERGING VOICE TRAINING (18-28 OCT 2012)

Intensive training and personal coaching in Beijing

'Emerging Voices' participants will benefit from didactic coaching to help you prepare to present your abstract and oral presentation at the Symposium Preconference and the Symposium. You are also offered courses on issues related to health systems research and skills building workshops on scientific presentation and scientific writing in English, with special attention for non-native speakers preparing to write and present in English.

EMERGING VOICE PRE-CONFERENCE (29-30 OCT 2012)

Participation in the Young Health Professionals Pre-conference in Beijing

Open to both Emerging Voices and other young health professionals

The week prior to the Global Symposium on Health Systems Research, the Emerging Voices will be invited to present their work at the Antwerp Institute of Tropical Medicine-Emerging Voices Pre-conference, in a variety of scientific formats ranging from small group sessions, fish bowl sessions, oral poster presentations, to debates between scientists and large auditorium presentations. They will receive constructive feedback from senior scientists and from fellow emerging voices and other participants.

The preconference is open to all young health professionals and researchers who have a keen interest to share their work with peers and senior experts. We are looking for synergies with other groups of young health professionals.

If you're interested in joining, tell us more about your initiative by sending an email to aappelmans@itg.be. Based on your motivation and availability, we will confirm your registration for the preconference. Some travel grants will also be awarded, which will be explicitly mentioned in the acceptance letter, while others will be asked to look for their own funding.

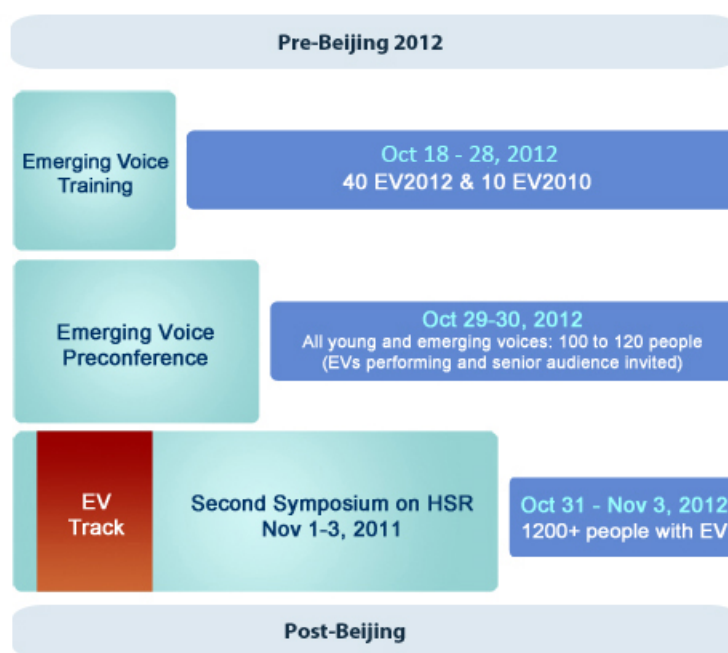

SECOND SYMPOSIUM HSR (31 OCT - 3 NOV 2012)

Participation in the Global Symposium in Beijing

Selected Emerging Voices will participate in the Global Symposium on Health Systems Research and where possible be invited to present their work. The Symposium also offers a variety of capacity strengthening and peer exchange opportunities.

POST-BEIJING (NOV 2012 - NOV 2013)

Virtual distance coaching towards publications in peer-reviewed journals, blogs, viewpoints and social media interventions.
